Still In Session.

London, March 22.—The session of the house of commons which began at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, is still in full swing. The house has thus sat uninterruptedly for 24 hours with every prospect of continuing sitting for some hours longer. The measure under discussion is the annual army bill. Really it is not controversial but it is being utilized by the opposition to obstruct government business. Premier Campbell-Bannerman who went home Wednesday night returned to the house at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, and informed the jaded legislators that the government "had no intention of yielding to the vindictive tactics of the opposition. The measure must be passed before the house is permitted to adjourn.

AGRARIAN TROUBLES WILL BE SUPPRESSED

Government Has Plenty of Soldiers In the Field.

QUIET RESTORED AT BATOSOHNI

Large Numbers of Jews Have Refugeed to Bucharest, Roumania—Russion Population Participate with the Peasants In Plundering, Etc.

Bucharest, Roumania, March 22.—All the army reserves have now been called to the colors with the result that the government has at its disposal plenty of troops to enable it to speedily suppress the agrarian troubles.

A regiment stationed at Ploesir has been ordered to Botosshni, which has been the scene of repated raids on the part of marauding peasants, and other troops are being hurried from all centarl points to the scenes of the disturbances.

Large numbers of Jews from Jassy Vaslui, Botosahni and other Moldavian towns which have been terrorized by the excesses of the peasantry have arrived here seeking refuge and assistance. They report that the Russian portion of the population, largely participated with the peasants in the plundering and incendiarism at Botosahni.

According to the latest advices received here from that town, quiet has been restored there. The minister of public instruction has telegraphed to the educational authorities of all the villages in Roumania to impress on the peasants that the outbreaks are greatly to their disadvantage, and that they cannot expect improvements in their conditions until quiet is restored. In addition, the managers of the rural banks have been ordered to inform the peasants who are in revolt that no advances of money will be made to them while the disturbances continue.

So soon as possible, a law will be promulgated curtailing the privileges of the large tenants and absentee farmers, to whose abuses the recent disorders are lagely attributed. Under the new law all the large tenancies will be curtailed to a maximum of five years, and then will only be permitted to control a limited number of farms.

The calling out of the army reserve at Berlad, Moldavia, led to serious rioting. The men, as a rule, were peasants or sympathizers with those who had been raiding the country and some 350 of them before donning their uniforms, paraded the street of Berlad, smashing windows by wholesale and plundering several Jewish shops.

The police ultimately restored order. The reinforcements now going to the front are largely drawn ffrom Waltachia, so as to avoid the possibility of the soldiers fraternizing with the disorderly peasants.

THAW IS INSANE.

According to Affidavits of Jerome's Alienists.

New York, March 22.—The seven alienists employed by District Attorney Jerome in the Thaw case Thursday, signed affidavits for presentation to Judge Fitzgerald in the argument Thursday afternoon for the appointment of a commission in lunacy to examine Thaw.

Six of the alienists in their affidavits declared that Thaw was suffering from a form a paranoia, that he should not be discharged from custody, that if he should be discharged he would be dangerous to public peace and safety, and that it is reasonable certain that he will not recover. The seventh alienist, Dr. Hirsch, agrees with his colleagues, except that he declared that Thaw cannot possibly recover.

The document includes also an affidavit by Irving S. Cobb, a reporter, describing a note given to him a few weeks ago by Thaw in which Thaw commented upon his wife's testimony and upon the conduct of the prosecution.

The affidavits are signed by Drs. Flint, Mabon, MacDonald, Pritchard, Ferris, Hirsch and Dieffendorff.

D. & R. TRAIN DERAILED.

Coaches Turned Completely Over But No One Was Killed.

Anita, Colo., March 22—Eastbound Denver and Rio Grande passenger train No. 16, running between Durango and this place, left the track at a curve between Onier and Toltec Gorge, 3 miles west of here and 35 passengers had a miraculous escape from death.

The engine and tender rolled down an embankment 20 feet to the bottom of a chasm. All the coaches left the track, several turning completely over, and the rest alighting on their sides.

The engine crew jumped in order to save their lives, and Engineer Smith, of Chama, N. M., rolled down the embankment. He was overtaken by his engine which passed over his body in its wild flight to the foot of the embankment. That he was not crushed to death is incomprehensible. As it is, he is quite badly injured, but it is not believed fatally so.

All of the passengers were more or less hurt, but none seriously.

GEORGIA ROAD CASE UP TO COMMISSION

The Phinizy Hearing Has Been Concluded.

THE COMMISSION MUST DECIDE

If the Contentions of the Augusta Editor Justifies the Employment of a Railroad Expert to Inspect and Report on Road's Condition.

Atlanta, March 22.—The Phinizy hearing, involving the safety and expediency of travel over the Georgia railroad, was concluded Wednesday afternoon, and it is now up to the commission to decide whether the showing made by the Augusta editor justifies the employment of an impartial railroad expert to inspect and report upon the physical condition of the property. Both sides were given their inning Wednesday, and the commission is now in a position to act intelligently. Its decision will be awaited with interest throughout the state, as the case has attracted wide attention.

Mr. Philizy's contention is that the lessees of the road have not kept the property in good condition, as a result of which it is today unsafe and that travel over the system is inexpedient. He charges that a number of wrecks have been due to the poor condition of the roadbed, rolling stock, etc.

The Georgia Railroad and Banking company denies that travel over the system is inexpedient. It is claimed the property compares favorably in physical condition with that of any other railroad property in the state.

It is not now up to the commission to decide whether the road is unsafe, travel inexpedient, etc., but it is for that body to determine whether Mr. Phinizy's showing justifies an inquiry by a railroad expert. Should the expert, after an examination, report the physical condition of the property to be all right, the matter will end; should he report to the contrary, Mr. Phinizy will then demand that the commission compel the lessees to put the road in first-class condition.

In support of his charge, Mr. Phinizy, through his attorney, Austin Branch, at the hearing Wednesday, introduced affidavits galore. They were made by people living along the line of the railroad, and dealt with the physical condition of the property and some of the recent wrecks. The affidavits, in most instances, swore that the road bed was in bad shape, and many of the affidavits told of loose spikes, decayed crossties, delay trains, etc.

The railroad company offered the report of Grant Wilkins, of Atlanta, a railroad expert. He had inspected the road and reported it to be in good physical condition. A number of counter-affidavits were also offered by the railroad, showing the roadbed, rolling stock, etc., to be in good condition.

The hearing was concluded with arguments by Major Cumming, representing the railroad, and Austin Branch, representing the petitioner. The contention of each attorney was in keeping with the position of the respective clients.

Lucas Arrested In Alabama.

Mobile, Ala., March 22.—Thomas Lucas, a white man, is under arrest here in the Mobile county jail on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He is believed to be the Lucas who stabbed Ed C. Farrell, president of the Atlanta Boiler Makers' union on Labor Day in a saloon in Atlanta, Ga. The sheriff of Fulton county was written about the man and he has sent back a description which tallies exactly with him. An officer has been asked to come here from Atlanta and identify him.

HIGH-BRED HORSES.

Standard Stock Farm Has Now Twenty Head of Thoroughbred Animals.

The Standard Stock Farm, of which Messrs. Chase and Strouse are the principal stockholders, have a place worthy a visit of those fond of horses, as they have housed twenty thoroughbred horses which have been prize-winners throughout the entire country at State Fairs and horse shows. At the Florida State Fair last year all of this stock exhibited were awarded first prize.

The barn and stables of this firm are the most modernly equipped in the State, and probably in this section of the South. Every convenience is provided for the care, comfort and protection of the horses, and altogether the place, which is kept as neat as the proverbial pin, is most attractive. Every Sunday the barn is thronged with visitors, and the superintendent, Elden Campbell of Bowling Green, Ky., who is an expert horseman, takes pleasure in showing them around.

Mr. Campbell takes especial pride in the horses, all of which are almost human in intelligence, but he does not forget to show visitors through the harness room, where, among other things, are five sets of harness with solid gold trimmings, and which he states are valued at $1,000 per set.

There are thirty vehicles of various styles, all attractively finished.

Mr. Campbell expects to take the animals on the annual horse show and fair course throughout the country. He will leave in June, returning October 1.

These horses will be registered from Gainesville, and will prove an attractive advertisement for the city.

Happenings From Melrose.

Melrose, March 22.—Among the many useful inventions patented by our local genius, D. C. Miller, is a bricklayer's glove, which seems to fill a long felt want, to judge from the many letters of inquiry received by the agent here, O. C. Husband, where samples can be bought.

Notice has been received of the death at Nassau, B. I., on March 2nd, of Wm. Atkinson, where he was on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Townsend. Mr. Atkinson and family used to be regular winter visitors here.

Rev. F. S. Hyatt will hold evening service at 7 o'clock on Easter Sunday at Trinity church.

Mrs. Brown, Miss Brown and Miss Jackson left Wednesday for a week's visit at St. Augustine.

The W. O. W. Camp 176 initiated three new members at their last meeting, March 19th.

W. Wicks has rented the Hilton cottage and expects to move in at once.

The quarterly conference will meet here on March 30th. Presiding Elder Bridges will be in charge.

J. W. Johnson brought in one of the best strings of black bass ever seen in Melrose, twelve of them averaging six pounds each.

A Railroad Curiosity

A curiosity in the form of a railroad automobile passed through the city Friday over the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, southbound, bearing a pair of track inspectors. At least, this was a curiosity to many people of Gainesville, for it was the first of the kind ever seen here. After remaining a few moments, during which time it created a great deal of interest and attention, the auto proceeded on its journey.

A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION

Proved Assertions Made True In Every Particular.

Many Gainesville people who have been for the last few days' reading of College Park's advantages took the opportunity yesterday to investigate the company's claims and, as everyone who went out made reservations, it is safe to say that their claims were substantiated.

Several old residents of Gainesville, seeing the great possibilities in College Park, made reservations before leaving town in fact, and the chances for a quick sale of this property are very bright indeed.

People throughout the entire State are awakening to the fact that Gainesville is the logical center of Florida, that it is the banner "home town" of the State, and that the University improvements now going on will enhance the value of College Park lots many hundred per cent.

Offering, as it does, every advantage to the home-seeker, it will be but a short time before Gainesville stands much nearer the first place among Florida cities than even the most optimistic now predict.

Was Constructed Forty Years Ago---Has Been Continuous.

MOTHER OF ALL CHURCHES

In Gainesville, as All Protestant Congregations Worshipped in That Edifice at One Time—Interesting Anniversary Service Tomorrow.

The congregation of the First Presbyterian Church will celebrate their first Sunday's worship in their repaired and beautified edifice next Sunday by the observance of the fortieth anniversary of the organization of their church.

This event took place Saturday, March 23, 1867, and on Sunday, March 24, the officers were ordained and installed and the first communion was administered.

An anniversary sermon will be preached by the pastor in the morning and Mr. Christopher Matheson will deliver a historical address at the morning service.

This occasion represents events of importance connected with the past life of all Gainesville. The Presbyterians built the first church erected in this city, and the Methodists, Baptists and Episcopalians all enjoyed the use of it in turn, so that all the other churches were born in the Presbyterian home.

All the people of Gainesville are warmly invited to attend these anniversary services.

A Successful Planter.

Among those who visited Gainesville Friday was T. K. Godbey of Waldo.

Mr. Godbey, as a farmer, especially as a grower and propagator of sweet potatoes, is one of the most successful in the country. For years he has been regarded as the authority upon sweet potatoes, has been awarded numerous prizes at fairs, the last being a prize at the Florida State Fair of 1906, and has supplied growers in every section of the country with "slips" for replanting from his farm.

Mr. Godbey planted last season thirty acres in sweet potatoes, from which he harvested 3,000 bushels, to say nothing of the hundreds of dollars he realized from the sale of "slips."

From twenty-eight acres of land he cut a ton of hay to the acre, says the report to Tax Assessor Colson, which is on file in his office.

Mr. Godbey goes at farming in a practical manner, which accounts for his marvelous success.

G.B.Burhans Testifies After Four Years

G. B. Burhans, of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to anyone suffering from kidney or bladder trouble." HEADQUARTERS OF SOUTHERN.

Will Be Divided and Atlanta Gets One Division.

Atlanta, March 22.—Reports from Washington, D. C., announce the establishment of two grand divisions of the Southern railway, the headquarters of the southern and western divisions to be at Atlanta, Ga., with J. M. Richey, now superintendent of the middle district, as manager.

The headquarters of the northern and eastern division will be at Washington and J. M. Pace, now manager of transportation, will be the manager of this district with jurisdiction over 4,000 miles of road.

It is understood that the subdividing of the division will be made in order to facilitate transportation. A number of sub-divisions were created only a short while ago, and while this has resulted well it is thought that matters will be more improved by the creation of the two new divisions.

It is believed that in addition to the number of clerks and employees that Mr. Richey will bring to Atlanta, many other officers may be moved to the city.

The establishment of the division headquarters in Atlanta will do away with a great deal of delay over matters in the past on account of the offices of the Southern being in Washington, the eastern terminus of the road.

Many questions of importance have to be referred to Washington and on account of the offices being so far removed from the other sections of the line much valuable time is lost. It has been expected for some time that a vice president of the Southern would be in Washington, the appointment of a division manager, will answer this purpose.

Superintendent Richey, who, it is said, will take charge of the Atlanta division, is well known in this city where he has a host of friends who will be pleased to welcome him back to the fraternity of railroad officials.

It is expected that the new appointment of Mr. Richey will result in the promotion of E. R. Loyall, now superintendent of the eastern division at Asheville, to succeed Mr. Richey, and J. M. Hutchins, superintendent of the Memphis division, will take Mr. Loyall's place.

Remember the next time you have pain—caused by damp weather, when your head nearly splits open, try Ballard's Snow Liniment. It will cure you. A well known business man of Hempstead, Texas, writes: "I have used your liniment previous to using it I was a sufferer from rheumatism and neuralgia. I am pleased to say that I am entirely free from these complaints. I owe this to your liniment." W. M. Johnson.

Serious Trouble With Japan.

Washington City, March 22.—United States Senator William J. Stone, in the course of a speech here Wednesday night at the monthly dinner at the Cabinet Fork club, said: "If we are going to have serious trouble with any power, it will be Japan. Japan has the Philippines. I am not sure that Japan would be the best for all of us if she should get them, but one thing is certain, and that is, that we will never get them with our consent. But we may have trouble in getting them. Japan would seize the whole archipelago in a week and we could only send over a big enough fleet to drive Japan from the sea. That would be a huge and costly task."

ROME TO OWN LIGHTING PLANT

Bond Election Will Be Held There on April 16th.

Rome, Ga., March 22.—An election has been ordered by the Rome council for April 16 to decide whether or not the city of Rome shall issue $175,000 of bonds for the purpose of erecting an elctric lighting plant and paving our principal streets.

There is a strenuous contest going on here now in regard to this bond issue. The side favorable to bonds is being led by Mayor John W. Maddox and Hon. Seaborn Wright, and the Rome Railway and Lighting company, which is at present furnishing electricity for the city and private individuals, is contesting the matter.

Judge Maddox and Hon. Seaboarn Wright addressed large audiences at the court house last Friday night and again Wednesday night in favor of the bond issue.

In case the bond issue fails the council will probably levy a special tax and build a lighting plant any way.

The fight on this matter is constantly growing fiercer, and its final issue is still uncertain.

Saved Her Son's Life.

The happiest mother in the little town of Ava, Mo., is Mrs. S. Ruppee. She writes: "One year ago my son was down with such serious lung trouble that our physician was unable to help him; when, by our druggist's advice I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery, and I soon noticed improvement. I kept this treatment up for a few weeks when he was perfectly well. He has worked steadily since at carpenter work. Dr. King's New Discovery saved his life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure by all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Flood Conditions Still Prevail.

San Francisco, March 22.—While the swollen waters of the San Joaquin are falling, flood conditions still prevail in the valleys. Many trains are being held here and at other terminal points. The Southern Pacific lines east were cleared Wednesday, and at 10 o'clock the first of the belated Overland trains arrived at Sacramento. There is a dozen stranded passenger trains at this place. It is stated at railroad headquarters that it is not probable that any trains will go through the Siskiyous for several days.

Crutchfield in the Tower.

Atlanta, March 22.—J. H. Crutchfield, the well known machinery agent who was recently sentenced to serve seven days in the city stockade, is now in the county jail, having also been bound over, under $1,000 bond, for assault and battery. It is said that Crutchfield served his time in faithfulness to the sentence of the court, behaving in a becoming manner. It is not known whether he will give bond, but it is expected he will do so in a few days. He was arrested for knocking Colonel John Temple Graves down on Whitehall street some few days ago. The trial in the higher court will probably come up some time next month.

Cashier Had an Urgent Call.

Charlotte, N. C., March 22—Frank H. Jones, assistant cashier of the Charlotte National bank, of this city, is missing with $68,000 of the bank's funds. News of the defalcation was given out Wednesday. Jones left the city Saturday night, stating to a bank official that he had an urgent call to Richmond. The shortage will not seriously inconvenience the bank, as it has assets of over a millon dollars and the co-operation of all the city banks. Jones was a member of the First Presbyterian church, and to an extent active in church affairs. He leaves a wife and several children here. The bank has offered a reward of $1,000 for his arrest.

ILL FATED MODELS.

The Odd Story of Seyne's Painting "Mystery of Life."

Invested with tragedy is the story of George L. Seyne's "Mystery of Life," in the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art.

"Three models," the artist told a friend, "were lost during the making of it. It became next to impossible for me to finish it.

"I had sketched out the plan and had practically completed the figure of the old man in the grotto. Then I began work on the figure of the girl. The model I selected was a particularly beautiful young woman and one who understood to a nicety the methods of my work, for she posed for me for nearly five years.

"The picture was begun in the spring, and I had been at work on the woman's figure barely a week when my model stayed away one day to go on a yachting trip. From this she never returned. The boat capsized, and all on board were drowned. So true to the subject of the painting was this incident that I turned the canvas to the wall, unable to continue the work.

"More than a year passed, and one day the old gentleman who posed for the other figure asked me about the picture. I explained to him that I had been unable to continue with the work. After some reasoning he persuaded me to get the canvas out. I added a bit to his figure and decided to continue the work, after persuading myself that this morbid state of mind caused by the incident of a year previous was more or less due now to a bad case of indigestion.

"The next day I began work with a new model. Scarcely two weeks had passed when this girl caught cold in my studio, was stricken with pneumonia, and before the month was out she died.

"Horror stricken, I turned the canvas again to the wall and declared that never again would I touch it.

"Many times would I look at it and long to complete it, but the work was at such a stage that a model was necessary, and my superstition conquered. So I refrained from taking up the brush.

"One day many months afterward I left a model alone in the studio. Her curiosity prompted her to look at some canvases stacked against the wall. This one took her fancy. She saw it was unfinished, and, to my amazement, when I returned the picture was standing on the easel.

"'I want to pose for that,' she said, as I entered.

"'But it is impossible. Neither you nor any one else shall ever pose for that picture.'

"'But it is a great subject. You must finish it—you must!'

"So insistent was she that I finally yielded, and she posed for me. I never saw a model so interested in the progress of a painting. She could scarcely wait to see it finished. At last it was completed, and I rejoiced to think that it was done without further fatality. But in that I was mistaken. Almost incredible as it may seem, six months later, when that painting was hung on exhibition, my last model died from burns she received in a hotel fire."—Scrap Book.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co. Detroit, Mich.

Everybody is waiting for Mr. Rockefeller to have another money storm.

The army engineers put in charge of the Panama canal cannot resign. Chained to the job!

The Woman Suffrage bill was talked to death in the British House of Commons. What a natural death!

San Francisco is beginning to think that the Honorable Abe Ruef would make a fine acquisition to the county jail.

Some people are fortunate in the opposition of certain "interests," especially when those "interests" oppose them for political office.

It is now advanced as a sober scientific theory that deep and serious thinking is the cause of disease. Notice what a large percentage of us are healthy?

The Boston anti-imparialists might as well give it up as a hopeless task. Aguinaldo has opened an account in one of the American banks at Manila.

Montana has a bill compelling boarding-house keepers to tell what is in the hash. Still, there are some instances where ignorance would be bliss.

The activity with which London has tackled municipal ownership and woman's suffrage may eventually cause the country to be the home of real conservatism.

If the President wants men on the Panama canal job who won't resign, why don't he try Platt and Depew? There is no such thing as extracting a resignation from them.

Anna Gould feels that her lawyers, in fixing their fee at $175,000, charged too much for her divorce from Count Boni. After reading some of the testimony we incline to think it was cheap at any price.

"Municipal ownership." The position you take on this question will have a great deal to do with your election, Mr. Candidate. For our part, "we're dead ag'in" any candidate who does not favor Gainesville owning its own lighting plant.

It's "tommy-rot" to say the people object to a man succeeding himself in office, and that "it savors too much of imperial rule." If an official has served his constituency faithfully and honestly it is poor argument to say that he has been in office too long.

A few individuals are unnecessarily alarmed regarding a notice of intention to amend the city charter at the coming session of the Legislature. The best interests of the whole people will be taken into consideration in the amendment, and no "snap judgment" will be taken.

The best way to have settled the contest now on for city offices would have been through a primary election, as suggested by The Sun several weeks ago. But the fight is now on to a finish, and all The Sun has to say in the matter, is "Lay on Macduff, and damned be he who first cries, 'hold, enough.'"

HAS SOUTH BEEN BUNCOED?

The interpretation of the new immigration act by Attorney-General Bonaparte puts a virtual veto on immigration to the Southern States as far as organization effort to aid it is concerned, without a radical modification of methods.

The members of the Senate from the Southern States foresaw this and were opposed to the immigration bill and had the power to defeat it, until they were assured, "from a high source," that the Administration would continue the new law in favor of assisted immigration in accordance with the decision rendered by Secretary Straus in the South Carolina case. Who gave this assurance has not yet been revealed, but to satisfy those Senators they were safe in allowing the bill to become a law, it is certain they must have received assurances from an authoritative source, for they would not have withdrawn their opposition to the bill on mere rumor.

Thus the South strikes a snag it is difficult to overcome and is buncoed at present out of the immigration she needs to increase her manufacturing and farming interests. Immigrants do not naturally come South, for all the lines of transportation on the ocean lead to Northern ports and the railroads point mostly to the West. The foreigners that come to our shores know nothing of the South as all their informatian is either by what their friends already in this country tell them or through the advertising matter distributed by the steamship lines. If a small stream of immigration could be turned to the Southern States it would become a torrent, for the greater advantages of the South in the matter of opportunity and climate when known and the comparative cheap price of land would appeal to those from Southern Europe seeking new homes. But the vast advantages of the South for immigrants cannot long be hid under a bushel either by the intrigue of Republican politicians or the machinations of manufacturing interests in other States.

CARD FROM FRANK CLARK.

Editor Sun: In The Gainesville Elevator of Thursday I notice an editorial as follows:

> Hon. Flank Clark is scoring well in Florida on account of his excellent speech in Congress on the peonage question, but is getting scored worse on the charge that he was elected through the influence of Flagler's money and is a peon himself. If this is true, he deserves the abuse, for no talented man should allow himself for gain to be used as a catspaw to pull the chestnuts out of the fire.

I would not refer to this editorial were it not for the fact that one or two papers in Florida have recently charged that I owed my election to Congress to Mr. Flagler, his money, or Standard Oil money, and rather support the charge recently made by William Randolph Hearst, an imbecile millionaire, who owns a number of newspapers and magazines, that I am a peon of the Standard Oil interests. This editorial from The Elevator makes no direct charge, but intimates that the writer believes, or pretends to believe, that there is some truth in these charges.

I will not discuss or argue such a charge with any man, or newspaper, but content myself with the statement that any charge of this character, or any intimation of the kind, is a base, wilful, malicious and deliberate lie, and any man or newspaper who gives currency to it is a malignant, base and unqualified liar. With this statement I dismiss the subject with the further statement that my home is at Gainesville, Florida. I am personally responsible for every word written here and will be delighted to put myself in evidence if any or all of these liars shall desire to see me.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it under oath. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, ofttimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

REPUBLICANS HANDICAP PRESIDENT.

The late Republican Congress has many sins to answer for, and not the least of them is the lack of an appropriation to protect the public land grafters. President Roosevelt has been compelled to cancel his order for the inspection of all land entries, for he says: "With the amount actually appropriated it is not possible to carry out the order or to provide with certainty for the detection of fraud without causing unreasonable hardship to bona fide settlers and home-makers." If a Democratic Congress had thus stood in the way of preventing fraud what a howl "the party of moral ideas" would have let out.

Senator LaFollette says that the Democratic party is on trial for its life. At least, however, it will not have to call in the insanity plea or the unwritten law.

A vindicated senator is not altogether in the same class as one who has never required any vindication.

RUNNING UPSTAIRS.

It Causes an Excessive and Injurious Strain on the System.

Every one knows that the ascent of a staircase is more fatiguing than ordinary walking. In walking progression is effected by a succession of lifts, inclinations and swings.

In starting the body is lifted, for example, by the levers of the right foot and is inclined forward. The left foot being then raised from the ground, the leg swings forward and is carried by its momentum beyond the right foot.

The levers of the left foot now lift the body again, and the right leg swings forward, and so the body oscillates along on a pair of pendulums. Short pendulums vibrate more quickly than long ones, and therefore short legged people step quicker than long legged people, though with no more expense of exertion.

In going upstairs the mechanism of progression is of course the same, but the lifting action, which is the real force consuming part of the process, is greatly increased.

Instead of being just sufficient to admit of the free swing of the pendulum leg it must be so great as to project the body up at each step a distance equal to the height of the stair.

Running upstairs is thus an excessive strain upon the constitution, but where does this strain fall? The levers of motion are moved immediately by the muscles, but the muscles cannot act of themselves.

Their contractions and relaxations take place only under stimulus. They are all connected by lines of force, called nerves, with the nervous centers. From these are the sources of muscular stimulation.

It is that the nerve force of the brain is converted into the mechanical movement of progression, but nerve force is constantly drawn upon to maintain the action of the muscles, and this demand is always greatest where there is the most of exertion.

When bodily vigor is high, the evil effects of running upstairs may not be readily felt, but where there is defect of any of the processes this must cannot fail to tell in some form or other with injurious effect.—St. Republic.

Mountains.

It used to be held in accordance with Hutchison's well known geological theory that mountains were mainly due to cracks which took place in the surface of the earth in remote periods, but this idea is no longer entertained by scientific men as to the form of mountains, that is known as table mountain being the best example, curiously enough at the Cape of Good Hope, a region it is believed is due not to volcanic or phenomenal upheaval, but to the sinking of the surrounding country, these peculiar raised areas did not sink was owing, as is thought, to the probable fact that the ground under them cooled slower than the rest of the section, and thus the table mountain had the earlier formed and has long retained its shape. There would always be denudation however, though proportionate to the surroundings, and therefore, despite this fact of being higher at present it still keeps to its approximate elevation.

Extinguished Paper Hangers.

"Paper hanger was not so much of a dignity in the old days as now, says Kate Sanborn in her book, "Old Wall Papers." The family joined in the task of making paste, cutting the paper and placing it on the walls. This was not beneath the dignity of George Washington, who with the assistance of Lafayette hung on the walls at Mount Vernon paper which he had purchased in France. The story goes that the good lady lamented in the presence of Lafayette that she would be unable to get the new paper hung in the bandbox in time for the morrow's ball in honor of the young marquis. There were no men to be found for love or money. Lafayette at once pointed out to Mrs. Washington that she had two able bodied men at her service—General Washington, Lafayette himself and his aid-de-camp—whereupon the company fell immediately to work. The paper was hung in time for the ball.

Artful Autograph Fiend.

"One of the most interesting collections of autographs is owned by a man who cultivated the art of kicking in order to secure them," said an autograph expert. "Every signature in the collection was appended to a letter written by some prominent person in answer to a complaint made by the individual kicker. He complained about anything under the sun, to railroads about delays on the part of officials about abuses in the way of managing public affairs, men and artists about their work, to authors some defects in their com-

WITCHES AND PLANTS.

Many Legends and Traditions That Link Them Together.

In all countries in which the witchcraft delusion now exists or in which it prevailed in former times we find folklore stories connecting those mysterious bogies with the plants of those particular regions. Even the great Shakespeare causes his witches to discourse learnedly on the diabolical properties of "hemlock digg'd i' dark" and of "slips of yew silvered in the moon's eclipse." They are supposed to have had their favorite flowers as well as plants, and in England at the present time foxglove is spoken of as "witch bells" and harebells as "witches' thimbles." The common ragwort is well known as the "witches' horse," the tradition being that they mounted rank growths of that species of weed and "rode the skies," just as the dame with the pointed hat rides the broom in the familiar picture. In Germany and throughout northern Europe it is the belief that witches float from place to place on beds of hay, composed largely of witches' blossoms and "devil spikes," this last being a species of dwarfed slough grass. St. John's wort, which is now so popular for shoulder and buttonhole bouquets on St. John's eve, was formerly worn for the express purpose of averting the crafts and subtleties of the witches, bogies, ghosts and spirits which the European peasantry believed walked abroad on "that night of witching mysteries."—London Spectator.

SHAVING NAPOLEON.

It Was a Difficult Job For Constant, the Emperor's Barber.

Constant, Napoleon's barber, tells of the many difficulties he experienced in shaving the emperor. Napoleon would take his place in the chair, conversing and gesticulating. Suddenly he would call for a paper or turn rapidly to look behind him.

The utmost caution was necessary on the part of his barber to keep from cutting him, yet in spite of all these restless movements not once while Constant was shaving the emperor did he do so.

Sometimes when in the chair he would sit stiff and motionless as a stone, and Constant tells that he could not get him to move his head either way in order to facilitate the operation of shaving.

Napoleon had a singular whim of having only one side of his face lathered and shaved at a time. When he shaved himself, which was seldom, he invariably cut himself badly. This was due to his restless impatience, and, though he was scrupulously neat in his person, he would, after hewing a slice from his cheek, give up the operation in disgust and go about with part of his face unshaved until he had found his faithful barber.

The Two West Points.

The sensations of the new cadet when, after the climb from the boat landing, he finally reaches the plain—those first sensations linger a long while. There are two West Points—the actual West Point and the overarching spiritual one, of which the cadet only becomes conscious about the time he graduates. The determinate West Point that is to be his master for four years and the shaper of his destiny meets him at the top of the slope with ominous silence. He hears no voice, he sees no portentous figure, but there is communicated in some way through some medium the presence of an invisible authority, cold, inexorable and relentless. Time never wears away this first feeling. It comes back to every graduate on returning to West Point, let his years and his honors be what they may. And perhaps it is just as well that it be so; that there is one place left in our country where vanity of asserted ancestry and the too frequent arrogance of speculative and fortuitous commercial leadership find a chill.—General Morris Schaff in Atlantic.

Cowbirds Unnatural Parents.

The cowbird is the only bird that we have in this country which is unnatural in its parental duties. It never builds a nest for itself, but lays its eggs in other birds' nests, thus forcing the rightful owners to assume parental duties. It it sagacious enough to choose the nests of birds smaller than itself, so that its young, when it is hatched, being inevitably the largest of the brood, must necessarily receive the lion's share of the attention of its foster parents. The birds thus afflicted resort to various means to rid themselves of this unwelcome addition to their litter. The most ingenious method is that frequently used by the little fellow wabbler, who will often build a substructure on top of her original nest, thus burying the eggs of the cowbird and often some of her own with it. Nests have frequently been found with two of these substructures in cases where the wabbler has twice been visited by the cowbird.

George Needed a Barrel.

The old courthouse had been replaced with a new one, though a very creditable sentiment prompted the citizens of Spottsylvania to make it of the same architecture as the old. By a great effort the old county records were preserved and survived the war records, antedating the Revolution by 100 years or more. One, dated 1766, cites that:

"Marye Scott and Clarissa Drury have thys daye been made to receive fortye and sixtye lashes, respectively, for stealing the clothes of one George Washington, Gentleman, whilst said George Washington, Gentleman, was in washing in the Rapidan river."

All who in youth sat at the head of the parental table and confronted a steel engraving of the dignified Father of His Country may cry out in protest against sending the decorous Washington home in a barrel, but Spottsylvania county has the records to prove it.—Metropolitan Magazine.

About the Ice Family.

Whenever a polar expedition is in progress we hear of ice floes, pack ice, sailing ice and other things of which the reader in a temperate climate has only a hazy idea, which makes him miss the interest of the news. An "ice field" is an area of frozen snow or water so large that the limits are invisible and unknown. On the other hand, a "floe" is a mass of ice perhaps very large, but whose boundaries are seen by the explorer. When such floes become broken and the pieces are wedged together by the wind and the currents they form "pack ice," the terror of the arctic voyager. When a ship gets caught in a mass of pack ice there it remains fast until contrary winds or currents break up the pack, and then we have "sailing ice."

A Fatal Advertisement.

Vestris, the great dancing master, died at eighty-three, and it was said he would have lived till a hundred but for a sudden and mortal blow in the shape of an advertisement. One day he asked for a newspaper, probably for the first time in his life. Scarcely had he opened the sheet when his eyes lighted upon the following: "Wanted, a professor of dancing at Calcutta. Must be a skillful chiropodist at the same time." He took to his bed and never left it again alive.

Long Legged Birds.

Long legged birds have tails so short that they seem to be out of proportion to their bodies. But there is a reason for the short tails. Birds, while flying, and often while walking, use their tails for steerage purposes. When birds with long legs take to flight, they throw their legs behind in a manner that causes them to serve the same purpose as a tail.

Clears the Complexion.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup stimulates the liver and thoroughly cleanses the system and clears the complexion of pimples and blotches. It is the best laxative for women and children as it is mild and pleasant, and does not gripe or sicken. Orino is much superior to pills, aperient waters and all ordinary cathartics as it does not irritate the stomach and bowels. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Siegel Home Is Robbed.

New York, March 22.—The summer home at Mamaroneck of Henry Siegel, the merchant and proprietor of several department stores of New York and several other cities, was looted by thieves Wednesday night. The house was occupied only by caretakers, Mr. Siegel being in Boston, and Mrs. Siegel being in New York. Six or seven valuable oil paintings were cut from their frames and stolen, costly bric-a-brac which adorned the house was thrown about and closets and bureaus were ransacked and their contents scattered about the floors. The head gardner said it could not be stated just what the robbers obtained until Mr. Siegel arrived in New York.

Business Men Indorse Roosevelt.

Washington, D. C., March 22.—President Roosevelt has received telegrams from a number of commercial waterway and other organizations in the west congratulating and commending him on the appointment of an inland waterways commission to consider and report a comprehensive plan for the improvement of the inland waterways.

Blow at Coal Combine.

Omaha, Neb., March 22.—S. E. Howell, president of the Omaha Coal Exchange, was Wednesday sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and to serve six months in the county jail. The sentence was imposerd by Judge Sutton, of the district court, before whom Howell was convicted of conspiracy in restraint of trade.

Of Course.

"Waiter, how long do you keep your eggs here?"

"Why, until some one eats them, sir, of course."—Annales.

That only is a disgrace to a man which he has deserved to suffer.—Phaedrus.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

DR. ROGERS TO ATLANTA.

Condition Little Improved, and He Went to Consult Specialist.

Rev. S. B. Rogers, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city, who has been confined at the Odd Fellows' Sanitarium for sometime, and the condition of whom is very little improved, left Friday for Atlanta, Ga., to consult a specialist and if necessary to undergo another operation.

Dr. Geiger will fill the pulpit Sunday, and the sick pastor desires a full attendance of his people. The pulpit will be filled from time to time by good men, and it is the earnest desire of the pastor that each member be unusually active in keeping the church activities at a high standard during his absence.

Rare Confederate Collection.

Mrs. M. R. Bass of Evinston is in the city, a guest of her sister, Mrs. L. A. Thrasher. Mrs. Bass is the widow of Major M. G. Bass, Fifty-Ninth Georgia Regiment, C. S. A., who was wounded in battle near Richmond, Va., Oct. 7, 1864, from which death resulted on the 16th of the same month. He is interred in Columbus, Ga., cemetery, and Mrs. Bass has the photograph of a handsome monument she had erected over his grave. Above the inscription is carved an emblem of three Confederate flags in cluster—a very pretty design. The photograph was taken on the last decoration or memorial day, and gracefully draped above the tomb are three Confederate flags, placed there by the Columbus U. D. C. Chapter, which chapter also decorated the grave with fragrant flowers.

Mrs. Bass has in her possession a number of relics in the form of letters written by her husband, with the Confederate envelope, stationery and stamp, which are indeed interesting. She has a large collection of relics of this kind.

Card of Thanks.

Editor Gainesville Sun: I desire through the columns of your paper to express my sincere thanks to the good people of Gainesville, and those connected with the Sanitarium, for their kindness during the illness and death of my beloved wife.

R. D. Proctor.

Bronson, March 22.

Among the West Enders visiting Gainesville yesterday was R. P. Miller of Newberry, who made The Sun an agreeable call, renewing his subscription. Mr. Miller is one of the oldest and most widely known residents of the county.

Workmen are engaged in tearing away the charred remains of the Baird barn, which was burned a few days ago, and will at once begin the erection of a new one. This was one of the most modern barns in the city, and Mr. Baird will replace it with one equally as good.

Saunders & Earle, having signed a contract with J. M. Graham for one of his new buildings, to be fitted up for a grocery, will occupy the same as soon as completed. In order to reduce their large stock of wood and willow-ware, crockery, glassware, queensware, Indian-work baskets, fruit baskets, they will offer many choice bargains.

Rt. Rev. Edwin G. Weed, bishop of Florida, with headquarters in Jacksonville, returned to his home yesterday, after an official visit here. Bishop Weed delivered an impressive sermon at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church Thursday evening, and at the same service confirmed a class. The Bishop's friends here are always glad to welcome him.

J. R. Emerson has returned from Kirkwood, his old home, where he has been for the past three or four days. He reports the condition of his brother, A. H. Emerson, who was seriously injured in a runaway at Micanopy a few days ago, very much improved, and it will be a question of only a short time before he will be enabled to resume his duties. This will be gratifying to Mr. Emerson's many friends throughout the county.
